

Web Developer, Community Lab

Position: System Research/Business Analysis Analyst

Organization: Community Lab

Location: New York, NY

Time Commitment: Varies

Compensation: Commensurate upon experience.

Duration: 8-10 Weeks, with potential to continue afterwards

To apply: Send a resume and cover letter to recruiting@community-lab.org, indicating in your email where you heard about the position. Applications accepted on a rolling basis.

About Community Lab:

Community Lab works to strengthen communities worldwide by investing in motivated people and the systems that connect them. We do so through consulting, producing and incubating. We advise governments at the national level on their development strategies both in the interventions employed and the funds apportioned. We create systems that allow developing nations to adapt their capacities to the changing environments of growth by linking national resource centers with local data collectors. We nurture thought leaders and ideas that seek to create dynamic social enterprises on a local scale that have impact on a global scale.

Position Description:

This position will involve lot of research of different technical systems.

Duties

- Help develop and maintain websites
- Develop database driven web functionality
- Identify and implement ways to make the web development process more efficient and scalable

Requirements and Responsibilities:

- Proficiency in PHP programming language
- CSS and HTML Web Graphic Design experience
- Photoshop, Illustrator and Dreamweaver
- Experience updating a CMS (Content Management System) like Drupal
- Understanding of Object Oriented Programming concepts
- Strong SQL Server 2005/2008 skills
- Positive attitude, highly creative

Qualifications:

- Bachelors degree in CS or other related technical degree
- Minimum of 1-2 years web development experience
- Self-motivated, team-focused